Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,
Fairfax Court-House, Va.

Missouri and Illinois Bounty Lands

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands; every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low, for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates; or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. As I am a large dealer in Military Bounty Lands, I can supply any number that may be required.
Please to apply at my Exchange Banking House, Bridge-street, Georgetown.

And then with a shrug, pinch of snuff, and a sigh,
Went on with his chorus of ri-te-tum-ti.
A trav'ler at last, than the rest more engaging,
Inquir'd when the dread revolution was raging, [repent,
If our Frenchmen had never found cause to

LEDYARD.

This celebrated traveller, who was a citizen of Connecticut, was sent by capt. Cook to explore a river on the coast of Kamschatka. He embarked in a canoe, with only three companions. These were the Bible, Ovid's Metamorphoses, and a bottle of brandy.

A SUMMARY OF THE PROGRESS OF THE ARTS IN FRANCE,

Compiled for the Democratic Press, from M. Chaptal's comparison between the industry of France in 1789 and 1819.

In 1789, the French imported cotton goods to the amount of 26 millions of francs; in 1812, one million and a half.

The Cachemire shawls of Mr. Ternoux, are fully equal to those of India. The Angola goats imported lately, promise new facilities to this manufacture.

The manufactures of linen and silk have been wonderfully improved of late years: and the machinery of Mr. Douglas, invited into France, by M. Chaptal, has greatly contributed to the perfection of all the manufactures depending on spinning and weaving.

The establishments of the manufacture of chemical articles, now excel the English both in quality and price.

The art of bleaching, both with and without the aid of oxymuriatic acid, has been carried into the highest perfection, not only on linen and cotton, but on the pulp of paper. In this way colours are not only discharged, but paper is also colored new, with the most beautiful tints, at a cheap rate.

Distillation has been brought to great perfection by the improvements of Messrs. Chaptal, Argand and Edward Adam. The first improved the form of the still, by diminishing its depth in proportion to its capacity; the latter saved fuel by his mode of heating the wash, and condensing the spirit of various strengths by a single operation.

During the revolution, the art of making vinegar for the table, for manufactures, and for medicine, by distilling wood, and clarifying the pyroligneous acid, has been so improved, as to supply great part of the consumption of this article at the best tables of Paris.

The art of chemically purifying water, by the improvement of filtres, not merely in the mechanical construction, but in the chemical additions that precipitate the impurities of water, have essentially contributed, of ate years, to health and to comfort.

The art of extracting the finest and most nourishing soups from the gelatine contained in bones, was brought to great perfection by M. Cadet de Vaux ——, and the art of preserving meat, fruit, vegetables and milk, perfectly good for years, by the process of M. Apput, is also a present from philosophy to Society.

The expeditious mode of tanning of M. de Seguin, is indeed only expedient upon urgent occasions; but the theory of tanning has wonderfully improved the practice of it, by applying to this art the anatomy of the skin, and the chemical changes that take place in it during the operation of tanning.

In France, for some years past, paper has been manufactured of any indefinite length.

The memoir of M. Monge, on the process of felting, has greatly improved the hat manufacture.

The metallurgy of France, now in all its branches, equals the English.

In porcelain, the French excels at present all Europe.

The stone engraving of M. de Lestayri, is daily improving, and promises to afford every scientific work requiring plates, at much lower prices than formerly.

ALEXANDRIA:
SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 9.

Communicated for the Alexandria Gazette.

(CIRCULAR.)

Consulate of the United States,
Pernambuco, Aug 22, 1819.

SIR.—For the information of merchants interested in the Brazil trade, I will thank you to have published in the Gazette of your city, that vessels may touch off this port and send a boat ashore with the Bill of Health and Register, when information respecting the markets, &c. may be had, without incurring any other expense but the Health Visit. They have frequently come into the harbor wanting refreshments, which could be supplied outside; but in case of coming in, are obliged to enter and clear, which is not only attended with four or five day's detention, but subjected to all the charges and formalities of the Port, which are very expensive.—Vessels clearing for the Brazils having the privilege of more than one port, ought to have it expressed in the clearance at the Custom House; when cleared for this port only, they are not permitted to enter on franquia; by this omission they have not the liberty to sell part of a cargo, and pay the duty on what may be landed, but duties on the whole are exacted at this place; which inconvenience may be easily obviated by clearing for the Brazils and a market.

I have the honor to be &c.

JOSEPH RAY.

To the Collector of ——.

We are happy to learn, (says the Georgetown Messenger,) that so far, the most liberal progress has been made in the subscriptions for the relief of our distressed fellow-citizens of Baltimore.

ITEMS OF NEWS.

During the last session of the Superior Court in Litchfield, Con. a judgment was recovered against the town of Winchester, for about 600 dollars, for neglecting to erect a railing on the lower side of a road on the side of a very steep hill, in consequence of which a traveller ran off with his wagon and horses.

At Salem, N. J. one John M'Cormick was convicted of whipping his wife, when probably in a state of intoxication; was sentenced to pay a fine of 25 dollars, to stand committed till paid, and till he gave security for his good behaviour for two years.

At New-York, George Brown, mate of the brig Retrieve, has been convicted of the murder of Capt. John Lewis, of that vessel, and piratically going off with said vessel and cargo. He has been sentenced to be executed on the 28th of October.

The Worcester, Mass. papers have already ventured to hint at the removal of the seat of goverment from Boston.

We learn that it is very sickly among the people living adjacent to Lake Ontario, from near Niagara river to Sackett's Harbor, especially at Genessee river, Oak Orchard creek, and other streams that empty into the Lake. The prevailing diseases are bilious remittent fevers, ague and fever, &c.

The season has proved very unhealthy in the new states of the west. This in addition to the embarrassments resulting from the scarcity of money, and the depreciation of bank paper, has produced much distress, and in a great measure checked the tide of emigration.

The Police of this city are so extremely vigilant that last night the MAYOR'S OFFICE was forcibly entered and robbed!!! Look to your locks, bolts and bars! they are less expensive and more efficient than our police.

[Philad. Press.

"THE ISLANDS OF THE SEA."

It is said that 100 houses of religious worship have been erected in the Islands of Otaheite and Eimeo, and are now occupied by christian worshippers.

PREPARATIONS.

We have learned from a source entitled to the highest credit, that all the ship-carpenters on the other side of Lake Ontario, have been collected at Sackett's Harbor, and taken into pay by the American government. It is also certain, that letters have been received by American discharged officers residing in this country, from their Secretary of War, holding out inducements to them to re-enter the republican service. From the particulars communicated to us, it appears they are re-organising and completing their light dragoon regiments. [Canada Cour.

THE ELECTION.

From the returns already received, we can state there is no doubt of a Federal Executive in this State by an increased majority.

[Balt. Telegraph.

Notes of the State Bank of North Carolina, will be purchased at COHEN'S Lottery and Exchange Office, at SEVEN per cent. discount, and those of South Carolina and Georgia at FOUR per cent. [Ibid.

A painting of the battle of North Point (Baltimore), by M. Bonfet, is finished, and now exhibiting at the Court-house in Baltimore.

The Morning Chronicle bestows upon it much praise. The time chosen by the painter for exhibiting the scene, is at the moment the American troops were in danger of being out flanked by the British.

The commanding officer (says the Chronicle) appears on the front ground on horseback, large as life, and is communicating the intelligence to one of his attendant officers. These figures are particularly striking, and especially the admirable foreshortening of the horse on which the officer is mounted, to whom the general is directing his discourse, representing a front, and at the same time an entire view of that animal. Behind are groupes of officers in various directions, all in various attitudes, and all of which serve to give interest and animation to the battle raging in the back ground. Amidst the living, the dying, and the dead, are twenty-five different liknesses preserved, of those officers who were present on that memorable day.—The lamented Donaldson is seen falling from his horse, and the venerable and patriotic M'Culloch, in the act of binding up his wound. Farther in perspective, the battle is seen to rage; the British distinguished accurately by their uniform, are seen in different masses, one on the point of retreating, and another party in the act of fording the creek, for the purpose of out-flanking the American lines. The house behind which the advancing enemy found protection, as they emerged from the surrounding woods, and, in short, the principal events of that perilous and interesting day, are there brought together in one point of view. [Philadelphia Union.

To the numerous friends of the late John Murray, jun. and the humane in general, the information will probably be very gratifying, that by his last will and testament, filed in the probate's office, it appears that his charities did not end with his useful life. To a number of worthy individuals he has bequeathed from 50 to 250 dollars each. To the Manumission Society 500 dollars. To the Female Association for the Educatin of Poor Children, &c. 500 dollars. To the Society for the support of poor widows 200 dollars. To the Orphan Society 200 dollars.—To the Humane Society 200 dollars. To the Dispensary 200 dollars. To the New-York Hospital to purchase books for the use of the patients 100 dollars. The income arising on lands, valued from 8 to 10,000 dollars are set apart for the education and clothing of children of "Friends" in low circumstances. The amount of 4000 dollars vested in stock, is left to trustees, who are annually to apply the interest for the use of poor persons, not members of the Society of Friends. To two worthy females 100 dollars, to be distributed at their discretion among the needy.

[New-York Columbian.

Extract of a letter from the British Consul at Para, (Brazils) to a gentleman in Newburyport, dated 18th August, 1819.

"The Small Pox which, if I recollect right, commenced its ravages previous to your departure, has placed every species of commercial affairs in the most deplorable state imaginable—nothing is sold, and people are afraid to bring their produce to town. Our average of burials, or other deaths (for instead of burying those who die, they are thrown into ditches ready prepared for the purpose) has been at least forty-five per diem for the last two months."

The editor of the Detroit Gazette, in noticing the complaints of "hard-times" and the low wages paid to mechanics and laborers in various sections of the Union, says, if these complaints be true, then the people of Michigan territory have abundant reason to believe that hard times have not yet arrived among them. We pay, says he, a common laborer one dollar a day—a mason or a carpenter gets from twelve shillings to two dollars twenty-five cents a day, and some get two dollars fifty cents!—we pay the women who do housework from six to eight dollars a month for doing that which a great majority of the ladies in some of the New England states would think absolutely necessary for them to do, for the purpose of promoting their health, and driving off that lassitude which idleness or a too close application to the improvement of their minds would produce. We also pay a shilling a pound for poor mutton, eight and ten cents a pound for poor beef—twenty dollars to twenty-five, per bbl. for ordinary pork, and for every other eatable a price in like proportion.

[N. York D. Adv.

The following is from a letter written by a French gentleman of education and standing in France, to one of the editors of the Pittsburg Gazette. This person was warmly devoted to Napoleon, and held under his reign the different employments of inspector of the arts and manufactures of Italy, and afterwards of prefect of the department of the Seine and of the Oise. After the battle of Waterloo he came to this country with the design of establishing a manufactory, but on his return to France for his family, they were unwilling to emigrate. From the extract we have published, it will be seen that Louis the 18th is acting with much more policy than he was thought to possess. [Pittsburg Gaz.

EXTRACT.

"The commercial situation of France is at present so wretched, that since my return I have never ceased to regret leaving your happy country. I have attempted several kinds of employment, but none of them have been flattering: I have therefore resolved to abandon manufactures, and to enter again into the service of the administration; I should never have quit it, if the government had been in 1815 such as it is now, founded on wise and liberal principles, in which the amelioration already obtained, is a guarantee for others which are reasonably to be expected."

Salem, October 1.

Buenos Ayres, Oct. 4.—The news this day from Monte Video, on creditable authority, is—That Don Manuel Videl and Don Juan Firo, natives of Monte Video, and members of the Cabildo, are appointed deputies to wait on the king of Portugal, to exact of him his promise, that the Portuguese should evacuate the eastern side of the river 3 months previous to the arrival of the Spanish expedition. This is done with the sanction of Gen. Le Cour; and Don Nicholas Herera, his first counsellor, had no doubt the king will comply with this proposal.

The Buenos Ayreans celebrated the 3d anniversary of their declaration of independence, in July, with much public display.

ANECDOTES OF THE LATE JOSEPH DENNIE.

Mr. Dennie was remarkable for penning down any brilliant metaphor which pleased his imagination, on a small slip of paper, and preserving those slips in his hat, until he had leisure to incorporate them in an essay. One of these we remember to have seen in his hat after his decease:—"I was much amused and delighted by the gorgeous decorations of human life, until I past behind the scenes and noticed the clumsy apparatus."

Mr. Dennie was eminently felicitous in his quotations; he was once relating to a friend, that some literary gentlemen had arisen in Boston, with whom he was unacquainted, he exclaimed, with a sigh, "they knew not Joseph."

In a small complimentary note, that he left on the writing desk of a friend at that time absent, when the writer was laboring under great personal debility—after complaining of his indisposition, he took this mode of informing his friend, that he would favor him with another call at 12 o'clock, "at twelve the ghost will walk again."

An English scribbler, who lived in London one whole season, by publishing the numbers of the Lay Preacher in a volume, came over to this country in circumstances of great indigence, and informed Mr. Dennie of the mode in which he had formerly gained a subsistence, which so delighted him that he made the author a present of twenty dollars. Shortly after, a most atrocious libel appeared against Mr. Dennie. The same man waited on Mr. Dennie, and avowed himself the author, stating at the same time, that he harbored no resentment against him, but that as he held a character so high in the literary world, the writer was compelled from necessity to aim his shaft at such a target This compliment so pleased Mr. Dennie, that he made the writer a present of twenty dollars more. [Baltimore Chronicle.

Some amendments that are made in our newspapers, of blunders committed, reminds us of an anecdote recorded in the pages of Cumberland, which he states to have taken place in Doddington's Journal:—"Erratum in our last—for her Grace the Duke of Dorset, read his Grace the Dutchess of Dorset." [ibid.

MASONIC—An extract.

Oh! charity! thou first of christian graces! How resplendent is thy lustre in the bosom of the lodge! Here let the faithful suffering brother divulge his misfortunes and his wrongs. No matter, tho' a frowning world has crushed him to the dust. No matter tho' unpitying friends have passed him by—here shall he find a balsam for his wounds, a cordial to assuage the sufferings of an agonized mind. The godlike offices of charity amongst masons know no intermission. Within the enclosures of the masonic temple, she is ever present, prompting her obedient votaries to deeds of kindness and love. She wipes the tears from sorrow's weeping eye, restores the fading blush of health to the woe worn cheek, and gives the welcome of friendship to the wandering child of poverty and distress.—Does she hear the faint whisper of complaint, the distant wailings of misery and woe? At her bidding the messengers of consolation and relief fly forth with winged speed. Ah! widowed mourner! Ah! fatherless victim of wretchedness and want! You are ready to attest the alacrity and sufficiency of the relief afforded by your father's friends. You bless the hour which bestowed on him the franchise of the lodge; it was in the days of his prosperity; before the billows of adverse fortune were even seen rolling at a distance; ere one cloud of fearful apprehension had arisen into view. He joined the band of brethren, to become the minister of good to others. Little did he foresee this unlooked for reverse which has made the bounty he intended to relieve the wants of strangers, the means of rescuing his own helpless family from the depths of wretchedness and despair. If his ascended spirit possesses a knowledge of this world's doings, how will it exult in a view of the grateful services, to which a recollection of his virtues, is now inciting his associates and friends; of the peaceful asylum which he has unconsciously prepared for the loved objects of his heart's affections!

Boston, Oct. 2.

An obliging friend has permitted us to publish the following extract of a letter, furnishing some valuable information of the state of the markets in France.

Havre, Aug. 19.

The object of the present is to give you an idea of the state of our market, which, we are happy to say, has been gradually recovering itself for some weeks past.

One great article, American Cotton, is in fair demand, and the stock on hand is so small that there is little appearance of a decline, and it is generally thought that there will be none until the near approach of the new crop; perhaps not then, as we consider the present rates as about the fair ones that ought to exist in time of peace and regularity of commerce.

Tobacco.—Of this article (we wish to discourage our friends from shipping any other kind than Virginia,) we have never dared to speak with much confidence. But as good Virginias may now be bought so low at Richmond and Petersburg, we should think there could be no danger in shipping it. Kentucky and Carolinas must not be touched, at least to ship to Havre.

Rice, is another uncertain article, which it is best to avoid. The price here varies excessively, and you can never calculate on your goods arriving here at the most favorable moment. If it should be shipped at all, it should be only at low prices at Charleston and Savannah.

Pepper.—When this article arrives here in the best season; say July and August; it generally sells as well as at any other port upon the continent, but when it is out of season the prices decline very much. There is very little now here.

Whale Oil.—We have now so many French whaling ships, that it is not worth while to think of shipping it from the United States. We however sometimes obtain fair prices for exportation.

Coffee.—This article is now in demand here, and worth 30 sols free of duty; say fair St. Domingos and Havanas. This is generally a pretty good market for Coffee.

Indigo.—This is one of the best markets in Europe for Bengal indigo—fine violet and blue is the description that meets the most ready sale. It is now in demand, and our prices are much better than those of England.

Teas.—We have at times a very fair demand for Teas, but it is unsteady. Hyson, hysonskin, souchong, congo, and campoy, in quarter chests, are the best sorts and packages. There is now a considerable inquiry for them for the smugglers to England.

Sugars.—Good white Benares are almost always in demand with us, and generally command fair prices. We can often afford to pay the heavy duty imposed upon this article, by foreign ships, and sell them for consumption, but our general demand is for the transit.

American Potash.—This article, that has been so long a perfect drug with us, is beginning to revive, and it is now asked for at 56fr. acquitte. equal to about 48f. 50 free of duty. We do not expect ever to see this article at such prices as we have obtained for it in former years, as the French make what they term Soude factive, which is a very strong alkali, and answers most of the ordinary purposes of American potash. It costs a much less price.

Hartford, (Conn.) Sept. 14.

Since the publication of Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations," there has been a gradually increasing attention to the great subject of Political Economy, and it has happily resulted in the cure or partial cure of several inveterate errors of pernicious consequence. This is seen in one particular, in Lord Castlereagh's late declaration in the British House of Commons, to wit:—that "the true interests of every country was to throw wide open its ports to the unrestrained commerce of other countries. Had that sentiment, now greeted with general applause, been advanced by a British minister half a century back, there is no doubt but he would have lost his place for it; the great body of the nation would have regarded him as either a madman or an enemy to the public weal. Yet nothing is more clear than its truth, nor could scarcely any earthly thing be more beneficial to the civilized world than to give it practical effect universally. It would prevent or greatly diminish the number of wars, of which the most have been in modern times, about trade; that is, if we except only the late tremendous wars that grew out of the revolution in France. Again, it would give encouragement to every nation for the exertion of its industry and skill. And finally, as it would empoverish none, but rather add to the wealth of all; the nations most industrious and skilful would be enriched by it in proportion to the increased ability of their customers. Happy will it be when commerce shall become a band of union instead of a bone of contention among the nations!

In the year 1593 it was reported that a child, 7 years old, in Silesia, had lost all its teeth, and that a gold tooth had grown in the place of a natural double one. In the year 1795, Horatius, professor of medicine in the University of Helmstadt, wrote the history of this tooth. He said it was partly a natural event, and partly miraculous, and the Almighty had sent it to this child to console the Christians for their persecutions by the Turks.

In the same year, that this golden tooth might not want historians, Rullandus wrote an account of it.

Two years after, Ingosteturas, another learned man, wrote against the opinion which Rullandus had given on this tooth of gold; and Rullandus immediately replied, in a most elegant and erudite dissertation.

Libavius, another very learned man, compiled all that had been said relative to this tooth, and subjoined his remarks on it.

There is nothing wanted to recommend these learned works, but that the tooth should really have been gold.

On its being examined by a goldsmith he found it was nothing but gold leaf applied to the tooth with great art; but they first wrote their books and then consulted the goldsmith.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

We were highly gratified (says a late London paper) with the pleasing report and the united and interesting speeches. We extract a few things from the latter —"Though many, we are all one. We have one cause—one captain—and one watchword, Feed my lambs." "The education of children is advantageous to the parents." "You cannot think what I have learned, (said a little Irish boy to his father, after his first lesson at a Sunday School.) "What?" replied the father. "Sit down on this stool, and I will show you." The father sat down, and his infant child taught him A, B, C, &c. The next Sabbath, the child learned, and then taught his father, A b Ab, E b Eb, I b Ib, O b Ob, U b Ub. And in six weeks they could both read a chapter in the Bible." "Some one questioned a little boy's veracity." "Sir," replied he, with an honest indignation, 'I go to a Sunday School.' The boy thought that a sufficient voucher. "A father said to his little Sunday School son, carry this parcel (some article of trade) to such a place. 'It is Sunday,' replied the boy. 'Put it in your pocket,' said the father. 'God can see it in my pocket,' said the boy.' An inexpressible pleasure prevaded the crowded assembly.

Drifted or was Stolen,

FROM my landing on the Potomac, about one mile from Maryland Point, on Tuesday night, the 28th September, a small northern built YAWL BOAT, quite new, black gunwales; the seats, and her inside, as low as the seats, of a leaden color, and, I think, her gunwales on the outside of a cream color below them, for a short distance, of a leaden color; her bottom, both within and without, turpentine or varnish. I purchased her about the 22d or 23d of July of Mr. E. Corning, Alexandria. I will give five dollars for the boat alone, if brought home uninjured—and if stolen I will give ten dollars for the boat and conviction of the thief.

Correct Information.

THE stock advertised for sale by the Mechanics' Bank as standing in our name, is not our property. Our stock note thereon has been continued, under heavy and disproportioned curtailments, ever since March 1818, for the use of the real owner, a respectable mechanic of this place, because he could not obtain leave, upon a transfer, to substitute his stock note for our's. We have no interest in said stock beyond the sum that will retire the said stock note, and we do not think it proper to advance more money than we have done for curtailments.

Public Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust from John M'Pherson, to secure the payment of a debt to the late William Hepburn, his heirs and executors, the subscriber (one of the trustees named in the said deed) will offer at public sale, on the premises, on THURSDAY the ourth day of November next, a TRACT of LAND, in Fairfax county, Virginia, about five or six miles from the town of Alexandria, known by the name of "Mount-Hebron," or so much thereof as may at that time be thought advisable to make sale of.

The improvements on the premises are—two dwelling houses, one of them of brick; a small country mill, with one pair of stones; a saw mill; and a building lately occupied as a cotton factory, with an extensive orchard of various kinds of fruit.

The terms of sale and any other necessary information will be given on the day of sale.

Valuable Land for Sale.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Superior court of chancery for the district of Fredericksburg in Virginia, the undersigned commissioners will proceed to sell at public auction, upon a credit of one, two, and three years, at Middleburg, in the county of Loudon, on Thursday the 18th day of November next, lying in the neighborhood of Middleburg.—The whole land is of that quality termed plaister land, and susceptible of high improvement by the use of it. The whole will be laid out into small tracts, of from two to three hundred acres each, and sold in separate tracts to suit purchasers. The whole is well watered, and no country is more healthy. Captain Pickett, who lives near the land, and who is employed to make a survey of it; and Mr. Sommers, who is the agent for the collection of the rents, will shew the land to those who may be inclined to purchase. Bond and security, and a deed of trust upon each tract, will be required of the purchaser.

4000 Acres of Land,

Columbus Street.

THE subscriber most respectfully informs the citizens of Alexandria, that his EVENING TUITION will commence at his School Room in Columbus-street, on Monday the 4th inst. To say more on the occasion would be useless; the proofs the public have received of his abilities, attention, and the general improvement of his pupils, are sufficient. As the school will be limited to twenty, and a number having already applied, those who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity would do well to make immediate application, and none need, except persons of respectable character.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. WM. MASON.

Charles County, Md. June 1.

The editors of the National Intelligencer and Baltimore Federal Gazette will insert the above until forbid, and send their accounts to Port Tobacco for payment.

June 11 tf

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the surname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, asmooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bearskin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington, Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria, Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria, Rev Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines. But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26
